Potluck Pretty

Usually the word potluck makes us think Diet Coke and bagged salad (or anything we can bring in a pinch).

That's all about to change, though, thanks to our latest obsession: Potluck Paris jewellery. We can't help but love the hodgepodge of stamped metal pieces that go with everything.

And now that Black Line Studio has brought the hand-picked line (everything is selected seasonally from French artisans, with even more hitting shelves end of week) straight to our front door, we're able to indulge up close and personal. (Because as convenient as online shopping can be, there's something about trying everything on in an actual store and paying with Canadian cash.)

If it's not our Hanav bracelet ($250), a thick stretchy cuff of silver circles, adding some understated flash (thanks to the matted finish) to our outfits these days, it's definitely our delicately pressed Manu Pendant ($150) or chunky square Stella Martelee ring ($150). (OK, sometimes it's all three...)

In fact, the handcrafted line is so stellar, it's almost inspiring us to lend some handcrafted talents of our own to the next traditional potluck we're invited to.

Well, almost.

Sweet Tip: Check out the launch party at the Drake Hotel Tuesday, April 10 for a chance to win your own piece of Potluck Paris! And mention Sweetspot until April 30, 2007 to save $20.
